Case #: V22-02
Address: 12109 Eastfield Rd Huntersville, NC 28078
Parcel #: 021-011-11
Acreage: 1.113ac
Property Owner/Applicant: Christopher R Fogleman
Owner/Applicant Address: 12109 Eastfield Rd Huntersville, NC 28078
Staff: Nathan Farber - Planner II

The applicant, Christopher Fogleman, is requesting a variance from Article 8.16.7 Rear Yard Requirement, stated below, in order to allow the construction of a detached garage not fully located in the rear yard.

BACKGROUND:

1. The subject property, Parcel ID 021-011-11, is zoned Transitional Residential (TR).
2. The subject property is located within the extraterritorial jurisdictional (ETJ) of the Town of Huntersville.
3. The Subject property is owned by Christopher and Whitney Fogleman.

4. The applicant applied for a building permit to construct a detached garage in the rear yard of his property. Staff approved the permit on December 20, 2021. (Exhibit 1)
5. The applicant contacted staff in September of 2022 to notify us that the approved detached garage concrete footing was poured in the wrong location by his contractor and was seeking possible next steps, such as connecting it to the house via a breezeway. (Exhibit 2)
6. Staff replied that a breezeway as proposed would likely not be compliant with the Zoning Ordinance, and he could either move the foundation to the correct location that is compliant with Article 8.16.7 or apply for a variance. (Exhibit 2)
7. The applicant states that the structure is encroaching past the rear of the principle building toward the front yard by 11 feet. (Exhibit 3-5,7)

8. The applicant states that his contractor poured the concrete in the incorrect location. (Exhibit 6)
9. The applicant states that the slope of the property and overhead utility line are hardships that are peculiar to the property. (Exhibit 7,9)
10. The applicant would like to obtain a variance to relieve the requirements of Article 8.16.7: (Exhibit 6)

“Detached garages may only be placed in the established rear yard. Garages for more than two cars must be detached and located in the established rear yard or be attached side or rear loading.”

The established rear yard is defined (Article 12.2):

“Yard, rear, established: the distance between the rear of a principal building or structure and the lot line farthest from the street fronting the lot, projected to the side lines of the lot on which the building or structure is located.

STAFF FINDINGS (ordinance standards are in italics):

Please see Exhibit 6 for the applicant's responses to the required criteria for granting a variance.

In considering any variance request, the following Standards for Granting a Variance of the Huntersville Zoning Ordinance (Article 11.3.2.e) must be addressed:

Article 11.3.2.e Standards for Granting a Variance of the Huntersville Zoning Ordinance:

Before granting a variance, the Board of Adjustment shall have made the following findings:

Standards for Granting a Variance. When unnecessary hardships would result from carrying out the strict letter of a zoning ordinance, the Board of Adjustment shall vary any of the provisions of the ordinance upon a showing of all of the following:

- 1) Unnecessary hardship would result from the strict application of the ordinance. It shall not be necessary to demonstrate that, in the absence of the variance, no reasonable use can be made of the property.

Staff Findings:

- A. The applicant applied for a building permit and received approval to build a detached garage on December 20th, 2021. (Exhibit 1)
- B. The building permit showed that the proposed 28ftx30ft detached garage in the established rear yard. (Exhibit 1)
- C. The applicant states that in order to fit the detached garage completely in the established rear yard he would need to remove a tree and an overhead powerline would need to be moved. (Exhibit 6)
- D. Staff finds that the property has enough room to build the detached garage fully in the established rear yard as demonstrated in the approved permit without interfering with the existing utility line, though the structure may affect the existing tree. (Exhibit 7)
- E. Staff finds that this requirement has not been met.

- 2) The hardship results from conditions that are peculiar to the property, such as location, size, or topography. Hardships resulting from personal circumstances, as well as hardships resulting from conditions that are common to the neighborhood or the general public, may not be the basis for granting a variance.

Staff Findings:

- A. According to the applicant, the property slope prevents the garage from being suitably placed farther back into the rear yard.
- B. According to the applicant, the lot contains an overhead utility line that prevents the garage from being placed farther back into the rear yard. (Exhibit 4-7)

- C. The building is substantially setback off Eastfield Road such that the rear yard where the garage can be placed represents about 20% of the lot.
 - D. Staff believes that the slope and overhead utility line would not prevent the detached garage from being placed in the established rear yard based on topographical data from Polaris3G. Based on the drawings submitted by applicant for the building permit, the detached garage could be moved 11 feet back into the rear yard without violating the required 5' accessory structure setback or encroaching into the overhead utility line as the utility line is located to the right of the structure not directly behind it. (Exhibit 4)
 - E. Staff finds this requirement has not been met.
- 3) The hardship did not result from actions taken by the applicant or the property owner. The act of purchasing property with knowledge that circumstances exist that may justify the granting of a variance shall not be regarded as a self-created hardship.
- Staff Findings:
- A. The applicant applied for and received a building permit showing that the structure would be located in the established rear yard. (Exhibit 1)
 - B. A contractor placed the detached garage concrete foundation 11 feet into the side yard and not completely in the established rear yard on behalf of the application.
 - C. Staff finds this requirement has not been met.
- 4) The requested variance is consistent with the spirit, purpose, and intent of the ordinance, such that public safety is secured, and substantial justice is achieved.
- Staff Findings:
- A. According to the applicant, granting the variance would not harm public safety or welfare. (Exhibit 6)
 - B. The spirit, purpose, and intent of the ordinance is to provide a separation of uses between primary and accessory structures while also buffering these uses from surrounding properties.
 - C. Staff finds that the variance would be consistent with this requirement as it would not harm surrounding properties.

STAFF POSITION:

The applicant is seeking a variance from Article 8.6.7 of the Huntersville Zoning Ordinance, which requires any detached garage to be placed in the established rear yard. Staff finds that the approved building permit shows that the applicant did not previously think any conditions on the lot would prevent the detached garage from being constructed in the established rear yard. The conditions now outlined by the applicant would not prevent the detached garage from being constructed in the established rear yard. Staff finds the application only meets one of the four requirements for granting a variance and therefore recommend denial of the request based on the below findings:

1. The subject property, Parcel ID 021-011-11, is zoned Transitional Residential (TR).
2. The subject property is located within the extraterritorial jurisdictional (ETJ) of the Town of Huntersville.
3. The subject property is owned by Christopher and Whitney Fogleman.

4. The applicant applied for a building permit to construct a detached garage in the rear yard of his property. Staff approved the permit on December 20, 2021. (Exhibit 1)
5. The applicant contacted staff in September of 2022 to notify us that the approved detached garage concrete footing was poured in the wrong location by his contractor and was seeking possible next steps, such as connecting it to the house via a breezeway. (Exhibit 2)
6. Staff replied that a breezeway as proposed would likely not be compliant with the Zoning Ordinance, and he could either move the foundation to the correct location that is compliant with Article 8.16.7 or apply for a variance. (Exhibit 2)
7. The applicant states that the structure is encroaching past the rear of the principle building toward the front yard by 11 feet. (Exhibit 3-5,7)
8. The rear of the structure located closest to the detached garage is an attached covered patio. (Exhibit 5)

9. The applicant states that his contractor poured the concrete in the incorrect location. (Exhibit 6)
10. The applicant states that the slope of the property and overhead utility line are hardships that are peculiar to the property. Staff find that the slope does not prohibit the construction of the detached garage and that there is adequate room in the rear yard to place the detached garage without interfering with the overhead utility line. (Exhibit 7,9)

11. The applicant would like to obtain a variance to relieve the requirements of Article 8.16.7: (Exhibit 6)

“Detached garages may only be placed in the established rear yard. Garages for more than two cars must be detached and located in the established rear yard or be attached side or rear loading.”

The established rear yard is defined (Article 12.2):

“Yard, rear, established: the distance between the rear of a principal building or structure and the lot line farthest from the street fronting the lot, projected to the side lines of the lot on which the building or structure is located.

Chris-

I apologize for the delay, I have copied Nathan on this email, as he can further assist you with the variance process.

Staff determined the proposed breezeway would be too long to give zoning approval.

Nathan-

Chris would like to move forward with the variance process.

Thanks,

Variance Requirements

STANDARDS FOR GRANTING A VARIANCE (Article 11.3.2.e.):

When unnecessary hardships would result from carrying out the strict letter of a zoning ordinance, the Board of Adjustment shall vary any of the provisions of the ordinance upon a showing of all the following:

1. Unnecessary hardship would result from the strict application of the ordinance. It shall not be necessary to demonstrate that, in the absence of the variance, no reasonable use can be made of the property.
2. The hardship results from conditions that are peculiar to the property, such as location, size, or topography. Hardships resulting from personal circumstances, as well as hardships resulting from conditions that are common to the neighborhood or the general public, may not be the basis for granting a variance. A variance may be granted when necessary and appropriate to make a reasonable accommodation under the Federal Fair Housing Act for a persona with a disability.
3. The hardship did not result from actions taken by the applicant or the property owner. The act of purchasing property with knowledge that circumstances exist that may justify the granting of a variance shall not be regarded as a self-created hardship.
4. The requested variance is consistent with the spirit, purpose, and intent of the ordinance, such that public safety is secured, and substantial justice is achieved.

Appropriate conditions, which must be reasonably related to the condition or circumstance that gives rise to the need for a variance, may be imposed by the Board (Article 11.3.1.e.).

In the following spaces, indicate FACTS that demonstrate to the Board of Adjustment you meet all the standards for granting a variance:

1. Unnecessary hardship would result from the strict application of the ordinance. It shall not be necessary to demonstrate that, in the absence of the variance, no reasonable use can be made of the property. The difficulty or hardship would result only from these regulations and from no other cause, including the actions of the owner or previous owners of the property.

From Strict application of this ordinance I would have to completely alter natural landscape on property as well as spend an additional 10-20 thousand dollars. Underground and overhead Utilities would need to be moved and existing trees would need to be cut down.

2. The hardship results from conditions that are peculiar to the property, such as location, size, or topography. Hardships resulting from personal circumstances, as well as hardships resulting from conditions that are common to the neighborhood or the general public, may not be the basis for granting a variance. A variance may be granted when necessary and appropriate to make a reasonable accommodation under the Federal Fair Housing Act for a persona with a disability.

Property Slope and Angle of property line forced slab location to reside partially in side yard. Location of overhead Utility lines do not allow garage to be moved away from property line

3. The hardship did not result from actions taken by the applicant or the property owner. The act of purchasing property with knowledge that circumstances exist that may justify the granting of a variance shall not be regarded as a self-created hardship.

The slab was poured in an incorrect location due to a previous Contractors mistake. This Contractor is no longer employed due to unreliability and has been uncooperative with fixing his mistakes.

4. The requested variance is consistent with the spirit, purpose, and intent of the ordinance, such that public safety is secured, and substantial justice is achieved.

Having the slab located partially in the side yard allows for a safe distance from overhead Utility lines as well as preserving the existing landscaping. Due to property set back this Variance will not negatively impact anyone or anything.

Board of Adjustment Variance Request

Who is the Board of Adjustment?

The Board of Adjustment is a quasi-judicial board with 7 permanent members and 3 alternate members, comprised of citizens residing in Huntersville and its Extraterritorial Jurisdiction (ETJ). The Board of Adjustment is a volunteer board appointed by the Town Board of Commissioners.

What is their function?

The Board of Adjustment considers two primary requests:

Variance-If certain hardships exist, the Board can vary the law to alleviate the hardship based on criteria established by NC Legislation.

Appeals-If you do not agree with Planning Staff's interpretation of the Zoning Ordinance, you may appeal the decision to the Board of Adjustment. The Board does not have power to change the Ordinance and is limited to its interpretation. Decisions are based on what the Board believes to be the actual meaning and intent of the ordinance. (Information regarding the appeal process may be found in a separate brochure).

What factors are considered?

Standards for granting a variance can be found in Article 11.3.2.e of the Zoning Ordinance.

Before granting a variance, the Board of Adjustment shall have made the following findings:

1. Unnecessary hardship would result from the strict application of the ordinance. It shall not be necessary to demonstrate that, in the absence of the variance, no reasonable use can be made of the property.
2. The hardship results from conditions that are peculiar to the property, such as location, size, or topography. Hardships resulting from personal circumstances, as well as hardships resulting from conditions that are common to the neighborhood or the general public, may not be the basis for granting a variance.
3. The hardship did not result from actions taken by the applicant or the property owner. The act of purchasing property with knowledge that circumstances exist that may justify the granting of a variance shall not be regarded as self-created hardship.
4. The requested variance is consistent with the spirit, purpose, and intent of the ordinance, such that public safety is secured, and substantial justice is achieved.

How do I apply?

- Submit application with all applicable items
- Pay fees

Variance granted?

If the Board decides to grant the variance, they may place certain restrictions or conditions on the variance to protect the public interest and neighboring property owners.

Variance denied?

If your variance is denied, you may abide by the ordinance requirement, or you may choose to appeal the decision to the Mecklenburg County Superior Court. If you choose to appeal the decision, you will have 30 days to do so from date you receive the Board's decision letter.

Reminder

When applying for a variance, it is important to realize that you have the responsibility of proving that you need the variance because of a hardship. Also, please note that Board members are not allowed to discuss the case outside the public hearing.

Due to the lack of communication i would like a refund issued at least until some sort of progress is made. I have tried touching base for over a week now and this is the first response I've gotten. I have no issue with your team doing the project as I have said from the beginning but the lack of trust I have right now I am willing to repay the down payment upon start and full amount upon completion. If this is satisfactory then ok but if not please let me know.

Chris,

Our apologies for the lack of communication. We understand your frustration and can issue a refund at your request. We have had some issues with the ongoing covid situation and are working through it as it arises. Our forces are dwindled from what they once were. Here is the last update received.

- Permit was approved on 1-25-2022
- Carter Lumber has been contacted to provide updated pricing and ship dates for material.
- Our concrete team is unable to do the pad and we have reached out to ARS concrete to supplement and are working with them to get a ground break date.
- To my knowledge the earliest date will be around 2-7 for concrete and Carter has packages 2-3 weeks out.

This has been a tedious project that has slipped through the crack on all sides. Taylor should be returning to work soon and will reach out when available. Please communicate through email to ensure everything is up to date.

I have attached the updates to this email.

Let us know how to proceed,

Taylor,

I have tried calling and texting you so I'm giving you the benefit of the doubt that you don't have your phone... you need to touch base with me ASAP. I have paid you 17 thousand dollars and now I cannot get in touch with you. You need to refund my money if you can't do the job or you need to be here doing it soon. I don't like being a hard ass but I will sue you for breach of contract and ensure I get every dime back if this becomes an issue. Please touch base with me.

Chris,

Good morning, hopefully you are recovering from a great trip. Wanted to update you this Monday morning.

We have completed the preconstruction process other than permit acquisition (scanning, material, dumpsters, trade on boarding) . We still have a pending permit with mecklenburg county. I have my assistant amber looking into expediting the review period.

I do have a crew ready to form the pad and may proceed with that if i have not received the permit by Thursday. This will be all of the digging and soil removal. Once permit is received we can pour. In this case i am looking to add curing compound to the order. This will allow us to start the erecting process. As mentioned the dry in process should take about a week.

Will continue to update daily until we have everything we need.

Thank you for your patience.
